

Shira Miller – Speaker Bios

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Shira Miller is a leadership keynote speaker, two-time TEDx speaker, author, and Chief Communications Officer of a $3 billion organization. Drawing on decades of executive leadership experience, she helps organizations build stronger leaders, more engaged teams, and cultures that drive results. Through her Activate the Remarkable™ platform, Shira delivers high-energy, relatable keynotes on leadership, employee engagement, recognition, and confidence. Her presentations blend compelling stories, real-world business insights, and actionable strategies that inspire audiences to overcome self-doubt, embrace possibility, and lead with greater impact. She is the author of Free and Clear: Get Unstuck and Live the Life You Want.

FULL BIOGRAPHY

What does it take to keep people engaged, motivated, and performing when change never stops? Leadership keynote speaker Shira Miller helps organizations answer that question by activating the remarkable potential in their people.

A two-time TEDx speaker, author, and Chief Communications Officer of National DCP, a $3 billion supply chain organization serving more than 10,000 Dunkin' restaurants, Shira brings an uncommon perspective to the stage. Rather than just talking about leadership, she is practicing it every day, navigating organizational transformation, building culture, and helping people thrive in a rapidly changing business environment.

With decades of experience as a corporate executive, entrepreneur, and communications leader, Shira understands the pressures leaders face to deliver results while keeping their teams connected, motivated, and ready for what's next. Her signature Activate the Remarkable™ approach equips leaders to see and recognize the individuals on their teams, spark optimism and possibility, and create opportunities for growth that fuel stronger engagement and performance.

Shira's keynote programs address some of today's most pressing leadership challenges. Through Activate the Remarkable™, she helps organizations build cultures where people feel valued, energized, and empowered to contribute. Own Your Remarkable™ inspires individuals to conquer self-doubt, strengthen their influence, and lead with greater confidence. The Recognition-First Leader™ gives leaders practical strategies to increase motivation, strengthen relationships, and improve team performance.

A Certified Professional Co-Active Coach and author of Free and Clear: Get Unstuck and Live the Life You Want, Shira has shared her insights with audiences at SHRM, HEI Hotels & Resorts, the WICT Network, Asian American Hotel Owners Association, Canyon Ranch, Georgia's Own Credit Union, UHY Advisors and other leading organizations.

Known for her warmth, humor, engaging storytelling, and practical insights, Shira connects with audiences from frontline leaders to the C-suite. Delivering more than an inspiring moment, Shira provides memorable frameworks and actionable tools that help people think differently, lead more effectively, and turn new possibilities into meaningful results.

Her message is simple: Remarkable performance starts with how we lead people, including ourselves.